

Give your big day some personality, let yours shine through!

Our Website Packages

what we do

Welcome to New Cards on the Block digital wedding branding. Our digital websites makes a perfect, modern and quirky alternative to printed wedding stationery and are a perfect option for the more eco-conscious couple.

Using my quirky and fun style of illustration I offer you something different an alternative to the norm to create excitement and a talking point for your big day.. My digital websites help brand your day giving it individuality and something for both you and your guests to keep for years to come without the clutter.

To access your individual website your guests will each receive a QR code which takes them directly to your personalised homepage. Using my quirky illustrations let me digitally tell the story of you. I will strive to create something that allows your individuality as a couple shine through.

We have a tier system of packages mixing both before the day and on the day stationery to suit all budgets.
